ANTHONY, Niall Baird
Master Corporal - PPCLI
Task Force Afghanistan

--

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 15 January 2006

“For outstanding leadership following a suicide vehicle borne IED attack while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 15 January 2006”

“On January 15, 2006, Master-Corporal Anthony was the second-in-command of a patrol that was the target of a suicide attack carried out with a vehicle rigged with improvised explosive devices, the largest attack of its type ever seen in Kandahar, Afghanistan. Through the chaos and carnage, and without concern for his own safety, Master-Corporal Anthony took actions that ensured the survival of two wounded Afghan children and two fellow soldiers trapped in a burning vehicle. His clarity of thought and ability to perform steadfastly in a tragic and hazardous situation brought great credit to him, to his unit and to the Canadian Forces.”

Medals: Southwest Asia with bar Afghanistan and MID – NATO with bar former Yugoslavia

Promoted to Sergeant.

BRADLEY, Jaime Richard
Sergeant
Task Force Afghanistan

--

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 12 December 2005

Awarded “for exceptional leadership following an IED attack while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 12 December 2005.”

“On December 12, 2005, Sergeant Bradley’s patrol convoy sustained an improvised explosive device attack in Ghorak, Afghanistan. As the patrol commander was seriously injured, Sergeant Bradley assumed command of the scene. He cordoned off the area, cleared a lane to the damaged vehicle and directed the Afghanistan National Security to apprehend two suspects. Despite the threat of subsequent attacks, the loss of a quarter of the convoy’s fire power and the distance separating them from potential reinforcements, the casualties were rescued and evacuated thanks to Sergeant Bradley’s sound judgment and vigilance.”

CARTER, Ryan Andrew
Corporal – 1 PPCLI Battle Group
Op ARCHER - Task Force Afghanistan

--

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 24 May 2006

“For outstanding professionalism displayed during an enemy ambush while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 24 May 2006”

“Private Carter was deployed with 5 Platoon, B Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER in Afghanistan. On May 24, 2006, during Operation YADGAR, his platoon was ambushed and came under intense enemy fire, which isolated his vehicle from the remainder of his platoon. Despite the evident danger and the vulnerability of his position as gunner on a light utility vehicle, Private Carter laid down continuous fire, suppressing the enemy and allowing the remainder of his platoon to safely break contact. His fearlessness and composure throughout this attack were exemplary and brought great credit to the Canadian Forces and to Canada.”

CLIFFORD, Peter John
Lieutenant-Commander – Canadian Forces Health Services
Chief Medical Advisor Task Force Afghanistan

MStJ CD

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: Feb to August 2006

“For outstanding dedication as Chief Medical Adviser and Primary Commander for Multi-National Medical Unit while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan from February to August 2006.”

“From February to August 2006, while serving as the chief medical advisor and primary care commander for the Role 3 Multinational Medical Unit, LCdr Clifford displayed uncommon dedication and tenacity, greatly contributing to the hospital’s medical support mission. Using exceptional leadership, he supervised the clinic staff through significant mass casualty events, carried out uncompromised patient care and assisted with mortuary affairs for all coalition forces casualties. LCdr Clifford is a talented physician whose initiative and foresight ensured the welfare and survival of numerous ill and injured soldiers.”

Awarded Member of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem (MStJ) in 2000 as a Lieutenant(N) serving at CFB Petawawa.

Op ARCHER Roto 1 - Afghanistan

CD

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 18 July 2006

“Corporal Cummings served with 1 RCHA on Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On July 18, 2006, while engaged in a firefight at the Garmser District Centre, his light armoured vehicle’s main gun jammed. Despite continuous direct and indirect fire from rocket-propelled grenades, small arms and mortar rounds, Cpl Cummings left his vehicle to secure a hand crank from another vehicle to repair the main gun. His actions were instrumental in allowing his team to remedy the misfire and carry on with the firefight. Cpl Cummings’s dedication, resolve, and willingness to put himself in harm’s way for the good of the mission reflect exceptionally well on him as well as on the Canadian Forces. For outstanding dedication demonstrated during a fire fight against the enemy while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan.”

“For outstanding leadership displayed during an enemy ambush while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 17 May 2006”

“M/Cpl Cuppage was deployed with 5 Platoon, B Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On May 17, 2006, during Operation BRAVO GUARDIAN, his platoon came under intense enemy fire during an ambush. Despite hits on his vehicle by six rocket-propelled grenade rounds, MCpl Cuppage maneuvered his light armoured vehicle to cover the remainder of his platoon’s withdrawal and took control of the cannon to engage the enemy. His decisive and selfless actions under fire undoubtedly prevented casualties. MCpl Cuppage’s leadership, fortitude, and devotion to duty were exemplary and brought great credit to the Canadian Forces and to Canada.”

DALLAIRE, Kevin Yves Royal
Private
Task Force Afghanistan

--
Posthumous

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 03 August 2006

“Private Dallaire was deployed with 9 Platoon, C Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On August 3, 2006, during combat operations in the Pashmul region of Afghanistan, he exposed himself to great personal risk to provide cover fire for his section. Traversing an open field under enemy fire, Private Dallaire directed his section to keep moving until it reached its destination safely while he provided cover fire. His actions reflect the highest standard of his regiment and the Canadian Forces.”

Private Kevin Dallaire, Sergeant Vaughan Ingram and Corporal Bryce Keller were killed and six others injured on 03 August 2006 as the result of a rocket-propelled grenade attack. The incident occurred near the village of Pashmul, approximately 25 kilometres south west of Kandahar City, near the location where Corporal Reid was killed when his vehicle struck an improvised explosive device earlier in the day. The 40-man platoon was overwhelmed by a force of over 200 Taliban fighters as they pushed to seize a key objective in Kandahar province. During the fight to hold this vital piece of terrain, the 3 soldiers were killed by a rocket propelled grenade. Corporal Bryce Keller was awarded the Medal of Military Valour (MMV).

Medals: Sacrifice – Southwest Asia with bar Afghanistan – General Campaign Star with SWA ribbon, IFIS bar and MID

His mother receives his MID from General Rick Hillier.

Op ARCHER – 1 PPCLI Battle Group – Joint Task Force Afghanistan

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 17 May 2006

“For outstanding leadership displayed during an enemy ambush while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 17 May 2006”

“Acting MCpl Fehr’s Forward Observation Officer Detachment was attached to 5 Platoon, B Company, 1 PPCLI during Operation ARCHER in Afghanistan. On May 17, 2006, during Operation BRAVO GUARDIAN, his platoon came under enemy fire in an ambush. When his commander was fatally wounded, he assumed command of the light armoured vehicle, successfully egressing out of the area under a barrage of rocket-propelled grenades and small arms fire. He continued to command the crew effectively, coordinating fire support and managing the engagement. Acting MCpl Fehr’s decisive actions under enemy fire undoubtedly prevented more casualties and brought great credit to the Canadian Forces and to Canada.”

“For outstanding professionalism displayed while affecting the recovery of an LAVIII while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 17 May 2006”

“MCpl Froude was deployed with the Headquarter Company, 1 PPCLI during Operation ARCHER in Afghanistan. On April 28, 2006, during Operation GAIA THRUST, the tactical command post vehicle became stuck in sand as the convoy came under intense small arms fire. At significant personal risk, MCpl Froude leapt over the back of the light armoured vehicle to recover the stuck vehicle while the remaining members in the convoy engaged the enemy. MCpl Froude maintained his composure through the situation, despite insurgent fire hindering his efforts. His actions reflect his selflessness, fortitude, and dedication.”

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 03 August 2006

"For outstanding devotion to duty displayed following an IED attack while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 03 August 2006"

"Corporal Joe was deployed with 9 Platoon, C Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On August 3, 2006, during combat operations in the Pashmul region of Afghanistan, he exposed himself to great personal risk to ensure the safety of his crew after a mine strike against his light armoured vehicle. Although wounded in the leg and burned on the arms, he climbed from the turret to the rear compartment to help the commander evacuate and then returned to the vehicle to rescue the driver. Corporal Joe's actions under difficult conditions were befitting the highest standards of his regiment and the Canadian Forces."

=====
MACDONALD, Michael Cameron
Corporal
Task Force Afghanistan

--

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 18 January 2006

"For exceptional determination as a member of the IED disposal team which disarmed a vehicle born IED while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 18 January 2006"

"On January 18, 2006, Corporal MacDonald, a member of the improvised explosive device disposal team, responded to the threat posed by a vehicle loaded with improvised explosive devices in Afghanistan. In a very dangerous environment, he worked over 14 hours under difficult conditions to avert the potential death or injury of coalition forces members and civilians. His exceptional stamina and determination exceeded what is expected of improvised explosive device operators. Corporal MacDonald's perseverance and his devotion to duty resulted in the largest recovery of an operational device by Canadians."

=====
MACHAN, Scott
Sergeant
Task Force Afghanistan

CD

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 12 December 2005

"For exceptional leadership following an IED attack while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 12 December 2005.

"On December 12, 2005, Sergeant Machan's patrol convoy incurred an improvised explosive device attack in Ghorak, Afghanistan, which injured four soldiers. Guided by Sergeant Machan's calm and strong leadership, the remainder of the patrol secured the area, conducted clearance drills and breached a lane to the wounded soldiers. Realizing the seriousness of their injuries, Sergeant Machan provided direction to his team to safely extract, treat and evacuate the soldiers despite the potential risk to him and to his patrol. "

MACKAY, Justin Christopher
Warrant Officer
Commander 1 Platoon, 'A' Company 1 PPCLI Battle Group
OP ARCHER Roto 1 - Task Force Afghanistan

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 03 August 2006

“For outstanding leadership as second-in-command of 1 Platoon, 'A' Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group, while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 14 July 2006.”

“WO MacKay was the second-in-command of 1 Platoon, A Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On July 14, 2006, his platoon reinforced a US Company fighting near Pasab, Afghanistan. Despite heavy small arms and rocket-propelled grenade fire, WO MacKay helped coordinate light armoured vehicle fire support, enabling the platoon's firepower to be rapidly and effectively employed. After winning the firefight, he coordinated the successful assault crossing of an enemy bridge, securing the far bank and allowing a safe withdrawal to a patrol base east of the village. WO MacKay's outstanding leadership and fortitude allowed coalition forces to retake the initiative.”

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 03 August 2006

“For outstanding professionalism displayed during combat operations while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 03 August 2006”

“Master Corporal Perry was deployed with 9 Platoon, C Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On August 3, 2006, during combat operations in the Pashmul region of Afghanistan, he exposed himself to great personal risk to extract his comrades stranded in the open by sustained fire from a numerically superior enemy. Without prompting, and ignoring the threat from possible improvised explosive devices, he manoeuvred his light armoured vehicle to shield the casualties and those providing first aid and suppressed the enemy with coax machine-gun fire. Master Corporal Perry's actions under difficult conditions were befitting of the highest standards of his regiment and the Canadian Forces.”

Master Corporal
1 PPCLI Battle Group, Task Force Afghanistan

--
First MID

CG: 24 February 2007
GH: 27 October 2006
DOI: 15 June 2006

“For outstanding professionalism displayed during combat operations while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 15 June 2006”

“MCpl Presley was deployed with C Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER. On July 15, 2006, while conducting operations in Sangin District, Afghanistan, dismounted elements of MCpl Presley’s company were the target of an intense and sustained ambush by a significantly greater enemy force. With a portion of his company cut off, he maintained his exposed position on his light armoured vehicle, at great personal risk, to control the fire of the main cannon while simultaneously engaging the enemy with the mounted machine gun. MCpl Presley’s fortitude and selfless actions were instrumental in repelling the enemy and permitted his company to break contact with the enemy.”

Awarded a Second Mentioned in Dispatches (MID) as per Canada Gazette of 8 November 2008 in the rank of Master Corporal for an action on 27 July 2006 in Afghanistan. He received two MIDs in the same tour with the 1st Battalion PPCLI

“For outstanding professionalism displayed following and IED Strike on a Canadian Forces convoy while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 21 June 2006”

“MCpl Prodonick was deployed with A Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group, Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On June 21, 2006, while traveling with a supply convoy, one of the vehicles struck an improvised explosive device. MCpl Prodonick quickly attended to the wounded. Once assured that they were being provided adequate care, he shifted his attention to securing the area and took the initiative to patrol the immediate vicinity. His timely actions permitted the capture of the individuals responsible for the attack. Throughout, MCpl Prodonick remained calm and decisive. His outstanding professionalism, self-assurance and stellar leadership won great respect for him and the Canadian Forces.”

“Corporal Rachynski was deployed with 9 Platoon, C Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER. On May 29, 2006, while employed as the air sentry in a light armoured vehicle, a determined enemy ambushed his convoy using rocket-propelled grenades, as well as small arms and machine gun fire. Since the close proximity of the enemy precluded the use of the light armoured vehicle’s main armament, Cpl Rachynski stood exposed in the air sentry hatch and maintained a constant rate of fire, despite his vehicle being struck repeatedly by grenades and small arms fire. His generous actions contributed to the suppression of the enemy fire and enabled the convoy to escape the ambush.”

“For outstanding professionalism displayed during combat operations while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 29 May 2006”

“Private Rustenburg was deployed with 9 Platoon, C Company, 1 PPCLI Battle Group in Task Force ORION. On May 29, 2006, his convoy came under enemy fire at such close proximity that the light armoured vehicle’s main armament could not be used. Private Rustenburg volunteered as air sentry to supplement the main armament. When the convoy was attacked again, he engaged the enemy with sustained fire, maintaining his exposed position despite small arms and rocket-propelled grenade fire. His unselfish actions contributed to the convoy’s safe egress. Private Rustenburg is to be commended for his decisiveness in the face of the enemy.”

“On June 19, 2006, Sergeant Schmidt was assisting a Romanian military unit conducting a perimeter patrol in Kandahar, Afghanistan, when the lead vehicle struck an anti-tank mine and was disabled. In the commotion that ensued, a Romanian soldier tripped over an anti-personnel mine. Despite the resulting confusion and disorder, the threat of more mines and the existing language barriers, Sergeant Schmidt remained calm, provided clear direction and facilitated emergency response. His rapid and professional intervention contributed directly to the survival of the seriously injured soldiers and brought great credit to the Canadian Forces.”

DOI: 22 July 2006

“Cpl Scott was deployed with 11 Field Squadron during Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On July 22, 2006, during an intense firefight near Garmser District Centre, he displayed selflessness and dedication to duty when he left his vehicle to provide first aid to a seriously wounded Afghan police officer. His calm and methodical application of the principles of first aid while under fire directly contributed to saving the police officer’s life. Cpl Scott’s actions at a critical moment contributed to the success of the mission and to the Canadian mandate to assist the Government of Afghanistan. For outstanding dedication displayed during combat operations while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan.”

Medals: Sacrifice - Southwest Asia Medal with bar Afghanistan and MID – General Campaign Star with SW Asia Ribbon – EIRR Diamond Jubilee

Corporal Kyle Scott (Retired) is a Veteran of the Canadian Armed Forces as a Combat Engineer. He saw active duty during 2 tours of Afghanistan in 2004 and 2006, after which he received a Mention in Dispatches before receiving his military discharge in 2008.

“For outstanding professionalism following and IED attack while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 21 June 2006”

“Sergeant Shipway was deployed with 3 Platoon, A Company, 1 PPCLI in Afghanistan. While commanding his light armoured vehicle near Padah on June 21, 2006, another convoy vehicle struck an improvised explosive device, which grievously injured the crew. Disregarding his personal safety and the threat of more explosions, Sergeant Shipway immediately secured the area and began treating the casualties, one of whom had lost both of his legs. With the help of the chief surgeon, via radio, he successfully stopped the bleeding and transported the soldier to Kandahar. Sergeant Shipway’s selfless actions in the face of the enemy saved a life and brought credit to the Canadian Forces.”

“For exceptional leadership when responding to two suicide IED attacks in Kandahar City while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 05 October 2005 and 09 October 2005.”

“Sergeant Thombs responded to two suicide attacks carried out with vehicles loaded with improvised explosive devices in Kandahar, Afghanistan. The first incident took place on October 5, 2005, when his own vehicle was the subject of attack. The second incident took place a few days later, on October 9, when a British governmental convoy was attacked. In both instances, Sgt Thombs demonstrated exceptional leadership, focus and poise as the section commander, ensuring the effective and immediate security of the site and treatment of the casualties. He expertly carried out his duties and inspired others to do theirs, despite the prevailing fear and potential risk of subsequent attacks.”

“For outstanding professionalism in the face of the enemy while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 03 August 2006”

“On August 3, 2006, while serving with the National Support Element to Operation ARCHER Rotation 1, Lieutenant Thorlakson led a convoy to recover two battle-damaged light armoured vehicles. While fighting continued in the vicinity of the damaged vehicles, he observed a suspicious vehicle approaching his convoy and attempted to wave it off while alerting the soldiers under his command. When the vehicle accelerated towards them, he fired, forcing the vehicle to detonate 30 metres from the convoy. Lieutenant Thorlakson's actions saved soldiers under his command from serious injury or death and preserved recovery assets essential to the mission.”

“For exceptional professionalism during two separate bombing attacks while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 15 and 28 September 2005.”

“In 2005, following an improvised explosive device strike against elements of the Royal Canadian Dragoons D Squadron on September 15 and a suicide bombing attack against the Afghanistan national army on September 28, Sgt Tingley led the coalition forces’ immediate response. On both occasions, he demonstrated fortitude and composure in the midst of carnage and chaotic conditions, while rendering on-scene security and assistance to those who were injured. Sergeant Tingley’s professionalism brought great credit to him and to the Canadian Forces.”

“For outstanding professionalism displayed following an IED attack while deployed with Task Force Afghanistan on 15 May 2006”

“Corporal Whitton was deployed with the Reconnaissance Platoon, 1 PPCLI Battle Group during Operation ARCHER Rotation 1. On May 15, 2006, while traveling in a convoy, an accompanying vehicle struck an improvised explosive device and caught fire. Without regard for his personal safety, he immediately went to provide first aid. After successfully removing the crew commander to safety, he re-entered the burning vehicle and removed the driver. While the pursuit of enemy forces continued, Cpl Whitton administered first aid until the casualties could be evacuated. His selflessness, fortitude, and dedication minimized the injuries to others, and his actions reflected exceptionally well on him, on the Canadian Forces and on Canada.”

“On October 14, 2006, Corporal Todorovic, a member of the Commander’s tactical group, 1st Battalion, The Royal Canadian Regiment Battle Group, dismounted from his own vehicle under enemy fire in order to assist in the extraction of his commanding officer’s light armoured vehicle that had become stuck in an irrigation ditch during an intense enemy attack near Ma’sum Ghar, in Afghanistan. Without regard for his own safety, he worked diligently to rig towing cables to pull out the exposed vehicle. His selfless and courageous actions helped save both the crew and the vehicle, and brought great credit to the Canadian Forces and to Canada.”

“Sergeant Tomasi demonstrated outstanding tactical prowess on September 9, 2006, when his Intelligence, Surveillance, Target Acquisition and Reconnaissance Squadron, 1st Battalion, The Royal Canadian Regiment Battle Group, in Afghanistan, was targeted by enemy sniper fire while conducting a night patrol during Operation MEDUSA. Remaining calm and focused, he immediately established a section security perimeter, located the enemy, and successfully directed retaliatory fire from supporting light armoured vehicles and attack helicopters. His confidence and composure inspired his soldiers to continue their mission without fear or hesitation. Sergeant Tomasi’s reaction to this perilous situation illustrates his professionalism, leadership and strategic acumen.

“Corporal Trubela was deployed to Afghanistan with the Intelligence Surveillance Target Acquisition and Reconnaissance Squadron, 1st Battalion, The Royal Canadian Regiment Battle Group. On October 3, 2006, his Pashmul region observation post was attacked with small arms fire, rocket-propelled grenades and rockets. Despite being wounded and exposed to continuous enemy fire, Corporal Trubela maintained his composure throughout the devastating attack. His leadership reassured the junior members of the patrol and calmed the wounded. Assisting the troop leader, he provided first aid to the critically injured and helped direct security of the scene to repel further attacks. Corporal Trubela’s composure under fire reflects the highest standards of professionalism in combat.

“Petty Officer First Class Walsh is recognized for his courage and dedication to duty while deployed as 23 Field Squadron’s explosive ordnance disposal chief within the 1st Battalion, The Royal Canadian Regiment Battle Group, in Afghanistan. During Operation MEDUSA, in September 2006, he risked his life to assist combat engineers in clearing a section of Route Vancouver in the Pashmul region. He personally identified five improvised explosive devices and a 450 kg unexploded bomb within a 150-metre stretch of road, and systematically disposed of them. Petty Officer First Class Walsh’s professionalism and commitment to his mission potentially saved the lives of many fellow soldiers.”

CG: 27 October 2007

Major

GH: 07 October 2007

United Nations Military Observer in Sudan

DOI: November 2006

“Major Penner is mentioned in Despatches for his courageous and selfless actions while serving as a United Nations (UN) military observer in Sudan. In November 2006, serious firefights in Malakal left 200 civilians dead and another 500 injured. Throughout the crisis, Major Penner volunteered to lead dangerous patrols and medical evacuations, with complete disregard for his own safety. During several volatile situations, his negotiation skills and calm demeanour helped prevent further escalations in the conflict. Major Penner’s leadership and courage under fire throughout the Malakal crisis were critical to the effectiveness of the crisis action team and to the sustained UN presence in the region.”
