VICTORIA CROSS (CANADIAN)

VC

TERMS

Awarded to members of the Canadian Forces, or of an allied armed force that is serving with, or in conjunction with, the Canadian Forces, for the most conspicuous bravery, a daring or pre-eminent act of valour or self-sacrifice or extreme devotion to duty in the presence of the enemy. Theoretically, Canada does not have to be at war for someone to be awarded any of the three military valour decorations. Originally Enemy was to be interpreted broadly enough to include acts of bravery in the face of hostile forces encountered during international peacekeeping missions. However, for political reasons, enemy is interpreted strictly and so this medal has not been awarded for United Nations operations as there is no enemy on peacekeeping or peacemaking missions. The medal may be awarded posthumously.

BAR

A plain bronze bar, ornamented with laurel leaves, is awarded for additional acts of bravery warranting the Victoria Cross.

DESCRIPTION

A bronze straight-armed cross pattée, 38-mm across, with raised edges. It is made from the cannons captured from the Russians in the Crimean War.

OBVERSE

The Royal Crown adorns the centre of the cross, surmounted by a lion guardant. Below the crown is a scroll bearing the inscription: PRO VALORE (Latin meaning For Valour).
REVERSE
The reverse has raised edges with date of the act engraved within a raised circle.

MOUNTING
The cross is suspended from a straight bar (ornamented with laurels), slotted for the ribbon with a V-lug below. A small link joins the V-lug to a semi-circular lug on the top of the cross. The rank, name and unit of the recipient are engraved on the back of the bar.

RIBBON
The crimson ribbon is 38-mm wide. In undress, a miniature cross is worn on the ribbon.

NAMING
The rank, name, and regiment are engraved on the reverse of the mounting bar and the date of the incident on the back of the medal.

DATE
The effective date of the medal was 01 January 1993, and announced in the House of Commons on 23 February 1993. It was unveiled at Rideau Hall on 16 May 2008.

ISSUED
None to September 2017
The Australian Army has four Victoria Cross recipients for Afghanistan, The British Army two and the New Zealand Army one.
Canada, after 10 years of war, zero.
NOTES:
This medal is identical to the British medal, even being manufactured by the same company from the cannons captured from the Russians in the Crimean War, but with the words PRO VALORE replacing the words FOR VALOUR on the British medal.

The medal may be awarded in two ways. First, a person can be recommended by the six-person Military Valour Decoration Advisory Committee, made up of one person appointed by the Governor-General and five Canadian Forces members appointed by the Chief of the Defence Staff. Second, a medal can be granted by a Canadian Forces officer holding a field command, subject to the approval of the Governor-General.

However, it will never be awarded. Somebody in government doesn’t want to give this medal out and so after 10 years of war in Afghanistan, no Canadian Forces member was deemed worthy of receiving this award – British, New Zealand and Australian soldiers were but not Canadians!!! Go Figure. ¹

CANADIAN BRAVERY DECORATIONS

CROSS OF VALOUR
CV

TERMS
The Cross of Valour is awarded only for acts of conspicuous courage in circumstances of extreme peril. Posthumous awards may be made. All Canadian citizens, both civilians and members of the Canadian Forces, are eligible for this award. Persons who are not Canadian citizens may receive this award if they perform an act of bravery in Canada, or perform an act of bravery outside of Canada that merits recognition by Canada as an act in the interest of Canada.

BAR
A gold maple leaf would be worn on the larger ring for a second act of bravery which would have merited the award of the medal. No bars have been issued as of January 2013, although two recipients have been awarded other Canadian Bravery Decorations.

A gold cross of four equal limbs, enamelled red and edged in 18-karat gold, 50-mm wide.

OBVERSE
There is a gold maple leaf in the centre, surrounded by a gold wreath of laurel.

REVERSE
The Royal Cypher surmounted by the Royal Crown appear in the upper arm. The words: VALOUR VAILLANCE are below the cypher and extend along the upper edge of two lateral arms. The recipient’s name and date of the incident are engraved below these words.

MOUNTING

Civil Division takes precedence over Military Division

A native of Australia, Colonel Elder joined the Canadian Armed Forces in 2011 after 26 years of service in the Australian Army, where he retired in the rank of brigadier after commanding the 16th Aviation Brigade (Australian Army Aviation). It was announced on 26 January 2011 that Brigadier David Shayne Elder had been made a Member of the Order of Australia (AM) in the military division "For exceptional service as the Commander 16th Aviation Brigade and to Australian Army Aviation". Brigadier Shayne Elder served four years as the Deputy Commander and then Commander of 16 Aviation Brigade. During this time Brigadier Elder reinforced the warfighting ethos of the modern combat Army aviator.

Colonel Shayne Elder became Commander of Canada’s Air Task Force-Iraq (ATF-I) on 19 October 2015. In this role, Colonel Elder led the task force through the successful execution of bringing the CF-18 Hornet operations to a halt against the so-called Islamic State of Iraq and Levant (ISIL). He also led his team in CP-140 Aurora intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance missions, and in CC-150 Polaris refueling operations. On 08 April 2016, Colonel Jason Major assumed command of Air Task Force-Iraq (ATF-I) from Colonel Elder in a change of command ceremony held in the sandy and windy Camp Canada in Kuwait, home of Joint Task Force-Iraq, the higher headquarters of ATF-I. Colonel Elder received the Canadian Meritorious Service Cross (MSC) and Operational Service Medal with Expeditionary ribbon.

Colonel Shayne Elder succeeded Colonel Kelvin Truss as the Commander of the Canadian Forces Aerospace Warfare Centre (CFAWC) during a change of command ceremony on 21 June 2017 at 8 Wing (Canadian Forces Base Trenton), Ontario, where CFAWC is located.

From the Canada Gazette of 07 May 2005 until the Canada Gazette of 27 July 2013, the Civil version of the MSC was “under review”. Chris Hadfield was awarded an MSC (civil) in 2013 - he already had the MSC (military) and then Clara Hughes, Sarah Burke and Colette Roy Laroche received the medal in 2015. No announcement was made that the medal was now available or what the review had shown but 25 Crosses were awarded in January 2015. Eight and a half years of review to get one medal out!

This honour replaces the Wound Stripe. Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) is included in the injuries and any wound serious enough to be treated by a medical officer and is recorded.

BAR

A silver bar in silver with raised edges with a centered, single silver maple leaf overall. A bar is awarded for further occasions which would have warranted award of the Medal.

46 Medals were presented at the inaugural ceremony on 09 November 2009 at Rideau Hall. 21 of these medals were Posthumous. 468 Medals were distributed to Commands for presentation at the unit level in November 2009.

NOTE
This medal has had a chequered career. It was first planned for introduction on 11 November 2007 and was withdrawn as the design was felt to look too much like the American Purple Heart. It was redesigned and due to be released in 2008 but several families of persons who had died prior to October 2001 wondered why their sons were not eligible and several families of persons killed in an the active theatre (Afghanistan) but not by hostile action (e.g. roll over of a vehicle) wondered why their sons were not eligible. At least 11 soldiers killed in Afghanistan are not eligible for the new medal because their death did not occur as a result of hostile fire or from a bomb. The Governor General asked for another look at the criteria and it was decided that all injuries as a result of military service would qualify for the medal not just those in direct combat.
POSTNOMINALS

The use of post-nominal letters is not authorized.
