New Information - British Military Long Service Medals

In October 2016, it was announced that the Long Service and Good Conduct Medals of the respective services would be extended to all personnel, including officers, who meet the requirements of award. This change is retroactive to those officers still on active service from 29 July 2014. Additionally, clasps will be awarded for an additional 10 years of eligible service with a back date to 29 July 2014 for officers and to 1 October 2016 for other ranks.

Thus, Regular Force Members of the British Army, Royal Air Force and Royal Navy will now receive the Long Service Medals previously only awarded to non-commissioned members.
