OFFICER'S CROSS - THE ORDER OF MERIT OF THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY

CG DATE	NAME	RANK	DECORATIONS	/
15/10/88	PREECE, Stanley	LCol	CM CD	Salvation Army

=====
Lt-Col Stanley Preece, Salvation Army officer was born in Cefn-Mawr, North Wales, 10 December 1908, and died at Tunbridge Wells, 04 December 1996. Even for Salvationists the work carried out by Stanley Preece, his Canadian-born wife Kathleen, and daughter Ruth, especially in the immediate period after the war, is a remarkable story of love and compassion.

More than 12,000 war-lost children were returned, mainly from Poland and Czechoslovakia, to West Germany as a result of their intervention. The cold war was already under way as Stanley Preece continued his work. It was a mission that was only halted when Moscow complained to the government that "the British were stealing children through a Major Preece". The Salvation Army accepted that the British government faced enough problems and told Stanley Preece to direct his attentions elsewhere.

It had all begun at a railway station in Germany at the end of the war when a lost German child told Stanley Preece: "I am all alone in the world." From that moment he devoted his efforts to rescuing children.

An entry from his diary as he accompanied 100 weary children home in a freight train from a camp in Czechoslovakia notes: "I felt, marching at the head of the line, like some Pied Piper of Hamelin, only that I was taking the children home instead of into a mountain."

Stanley and Kathleen Preece had crossed the Channel with the British Expeditionary Force as pioneer workers with the Red Shield, the Salvation Army's relief organisation. They were caught in the Dunkirk evacuation and only managed to flee on June 18, the day France capitulated, on the last but one ship.

After D-Day he was among the earliest volunteers to re-enter to the war theatre. He founded youth colonies and orphanages. His work for displaced German children is widely recognised in that country and Helmut Kohl, on a visit to Toronto, invited him to attend a reception. In 1976 the Queen was delighted to give her approval to Lt-Col Stanley Preece being honoured with the Order of Canada - the nation's highest award.

Lt-Col Preece died in a Salvation Army home in Kent, but his body was returned to Canada for burial. He is survived by his daughter, Ruth, a serving officer with the Salvation Army in North Yorkshire.

German Armed Forces honour - Silver Cross of Honour

RMC professor Major Pierre Lepine received the German Armed Forces Silver Cross of Honour on Sunday. Awarded for exemplary service or outstanding deeds and extraordinary achievements, the medal is the German equivalent to the Canadian Order of Military Merit. He is the first Canadian officer to receive the award. Only one other Canadian Forces member has been decorated with the Silver Cross, but that officer was given the award when he was a member of the German Air Force. Lepine received the medal due to his outstanding work while posted to Ministry of Defence in Berlin for four years in 2006 as part of the NATO exchange program. Prior to that, he had been selected to attend the German General Command and Staff College in Hamburg.

The German armed forces (Bundeswehr) presented Major Edmund Roberds with the the Ehrenkreuz der Bundeswehr in silber (Silver Cross of Honour) at the German Club at 5 Wing Goose Bay, Newfoundland and Labrador.

The medal is awarded to military personnel for exemplary service or outstanding deeds and extraordinary achievements; it is similar to the Canadian Order of Military Merit decorations. Major Roberds is the second Canadian Forces member, and the only Royal Canadian Air Force member, to have received this honour. Major Roberds received the award for his work with NATO and the German military during his posting to the NATO Early Warning and Control Force E-3A Component in Geilenkirchen, Germany from 01 July 2010 to the summer of 2011. He was a reliable link between German and international NATO interests, while working simultaneously in support of Operation Unified Protector, and Operation Afghan Assist.

Op Unified Protector was a NATO-led effort to protect the people of Libya, while NATO's Operation Afghanistan Assist coordinated and deconflicted the increasingly busy air traffic over Afghanistan. Major Roberds accomplished these tasks with teamwork, assertiveness and great diplomatic skill.

All of Peru's honours were awarded following the CAF's participation in the humanitarian efforts that followed the devastating series of earthquakes on 31 May 1970 (Operation PERU). The CAF involvement consisted primarily of an airlift operation to provide emergency relief supplies. This mission employed five twin-engine Caribou who flew from Trenton to Lima on 08 June 1970, to begin disaster relief operations. Despite the high altitude, the dangerous flight conditions and the makeshift tracks of the Andes, they managed to transport 90 tons of supplies and evacuate 800 people during the month of the operation.

Canadian Forces (CF) Information (Peru 1970)

Name: Peru 1970                      Date: 06/06/1970 - 14/07/1970

Canadian Task Force Name Mission Statement: To deliver humanitarian aid to Peru.

CF Mission/Operation Notes:

At 3:24 PM, 31 May 1970, a magnitude 7.8 earthquake struck the Huascara region of Peru, devastating the Callejon De Huaylas (Huaylas valley). Besides the damage caused by the tremors, a rock and snow avalanche buried the towns of Yungay and Ranrahirca, causing over 18,000 fatalities. Overall, 66,794 people perished and 800,000 were left homeless. That evening the President of Peru, Juan Velasco Alvarado, requested international assistance.

At the request of the Department of External Affairs, the CF performed a staff check and advised that the dispatch of five Caribou, and one Hercules as support, would be the most valuable contribution. The Prime Minister, Pierre Elliot Trudeau, approved this suggestion on 5 June. 424 Squadron had been placed on alert the day before. On 6 June, all six aircraft departed CFB Trenton, and via Florida and Panama, arrived in Peru in the evening of 8 June 1970 after a 6,100 kilometer journey. The first real missions began on 9 June when, and having taken on Peruvian pilots as guides, the crews of the four Caribous called upon carefully tossed out bundles of blankets and clothing to stranded villages along the route.

Anta, the only airfield in the disaster area to remain open, was the hub of the relief effort. To reach this area, the pilots had to fly at over 14,500 feet to cross a mountain range, fly through windy, steep-sided valleys before coming down at a steep angle of descent onto the 3,000 foot gravel runway, located at an elevation of 8,700 feet. The danger of the flying can be judged by the fact that in the first week, three American helicopters, one Argentinean Fokker F-27, and one Peruvian helicopter had already crashed in the valleys and mountain passes. The pace of activities was intense. Given the complete breakdown of the electrical grid, the Anta valley was pitch black from about 4:00 PM, and all flying had therefore to be squeezed into the daylight hours. Given the limited space on the airfield, moreover, there was no time or space to loiter, and the goal was to load and unload in under twenty minutes.

By Monday, 15 June, LCol Butchart called a one-day halt to operations to let air and ground crew rest. Both were tired from the long days and from the high altitude. By that time, 49 flights had been made bringing in over 90 tons of relief and evacuating over 800 people. The initial flights brought in relief supplies and took out the injured. The initial supplies were mainly plasma, hypodermics, vaccines and plaster-of-paris. Priority then shifted to food, drinking water, blankets and warm, clothes to aid survivors until the roads could be re-opened.

Operations into Anta resumed on 16 June, but the effort to open roads and new airfields went ahead very quickly and by 20 June an airfield at Caras, north of Yanguay, was opened, although its 1500-foot runway limited access to Caribous and helicopters. Two days later, the runways at Anta were lengthened to allow French Air Force Transalls and American Hercules to land there, expanding the relief effort. Still, the unique STOL capabilities and high lift capacity of the Caribous made them extremely useful in opening transport to new fields.

Airlift was not the only Canadian Forces contribution to the disaster relief effort. On 14 June, a group of 12 technicians arrived by aircraft from Canada to install seven donated electrical generators. One generator arrived by Hercules on 14 June, with the remaining six arriving on two Hercules on 16 June. After assembling the generators, the decision was made on 18 June to send three to the City of Trujillo, for which the generators departed by road and the four technicians by air. A further three were installed in the Huaraz area and one in Santiago de Chuco, the technicians and generators taking roads to these locations. The last relief flight occurred on 26 June. By that time there had been 97 flights, involving 382 flying hours, carrying over 180 tons of emergency supplies and transporting 1903 homeless, injured and orphaned civilians out of the disaster area. The last personnel from 424 Squadron left on 30 June, followed by the last of the technicians on 14 July.

20 MSM plus 2 - 1st Oak Leaf Clusters + 1 Gold Star

Lieutenant-Colonel Patrick H. "Pat" McAdam (Ret'd) has recently been awarded for the third time the United States Meritorious Service Medal. The Meritorious Service Medal (MSM) is a military award presented to members of the United States Armed Forces who distinguish themselves by outstanding meritorious achievement or service to the United States. Foreign military personnel who have displayed a level of service that merits an award of such magnitude may also be eligible to be awarded the MSM subject to approval by a U.S. flag officer or general officer. To receive this medal the individual must exhibit exceptionally meritorious service.

This latest award of the U.S. Meritorious Service Medal came from the United States Army and was based on Lieutenant-Colonel McAdam's last tour in Washington, DC as the Canadian Assistant Military Attaché. His two previous Meritorious Service Medals were awarded by the United States Navy. Lieutenant-Colonel P.H. McAdam has in total 11 years' service with or alongside American forces, including four years with the United States Marine Corps (USMC); four years with the United States Navy; and three years with the United States Army. Additional awards of the Meritorious Service Medal are denoted by bronze oak leaf clusters in the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force and gold <sup>5</sup>/<sub>16</sub> inch stars in the U.S. Navy, U.S. Marine Corps and U.S. Coast Guard.

Lieutenant-Colonel McAdam officially retired on 07 August 2013 after more than 36 years' service in the Canadian Armed Forces. He had served in all three regular battalions of The Regiment, 1 RCR, 2 RCR, and 3 RCR. As well he served with The RCR Battle School and the Canadian Airborne Regiment. Lieutenant-Colonel McAdam has an impressive resume of out of country and overseas postings, including Baden Soellingen, Germany with 3 RCR; Quantico, Virginia as Canadian LO to the United States Marine Corps; Norfolk, Virginia as a staff officer with (NATO) Combined Joint Operations; and, of course, most recently Washington, DC as Assistant Military Attaché.

The NATO Meritorious Service Medal (MSM) was first awarded in 2003 to commend NATO staff whose personal initiative and dedication went beyond their duty to make a difference both to their colleagues, and to NATO as an organization. The Medal is the personal award of the Secretary General of NATO, who signs each citation. Fewer than 50 medals are awarded each year and it remains the only significant award for individual personal effort for NATO staff. When assessing nominations for the award, there are several criteria taken into consideration: the performance of acts of courage in difficult or dangerous circumstances; showing exceptional leadership or personal example; making an outstanding individual contribution to a NATO sponsored program or activity; or enduring particular hardship or deprivation in the interest of NATO.
