SECTION A: INTRODUCTION

HONOURS AND AWARDS - ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE - 1920 TO 1968

This book details the over 6000 awards made to the Royal Canadian Air Force during its 48 year history. Over 2/3rds of these awards were Distinguished Flying Crosses awarded in World War Two and these are all presented in alphabetical order with their rank, Squadron and London Gazette date.

Because of the large number of awards, I have tried to pack as much into each line as possible. Where more information on a citation is available in the London Gazette or the Canada Gazette, this is noted (by a # symbol) so that researchers can look up this information. Only a few sample citations could be included due to space limitations. I have included details on Canadians in the RAF and RAF/RAAF/RNZAF members in the RCAF where available.

Besides the London Gazette and Canada Gazette, five references were of importance. "The RCAF Overseas", three volumes which contains lists of the RCAF awards. Not all the awards were contained in these books so this work expands on the lists presented in the three volumes. For information on Canadians in the RAF, Les Allison's excellent book "Canadians in the Royal Air Force" was consulted. Mr. R.V. Dodds, "The Brave Young Wings" provided information for Section K for awards to Canadian Aviators in World War One. This is a superb book for details on these individuals. Francis Dowe's "The Canadian Military Register of Foreign Awards" allowed the inclusion of several awards that were not in the London or Canada Gazette. Larry Milberry's books continue to be an outstanding source of information on the RCAF particularly "The Royal Canadian Air Force at War 1939 - 1945". Information from other sources has been used to expand these lists. A bibliography of books used is included in the Appendices but many hours were spent in libraries pouring through the London Gazette (located at the National Museum in Ottawa, University Library in Toronto and Vancouver and the Parliamentary Library in Wellington, New Zealand). Since most major cities have Canada Gazettes in their libraries, I have used the Canada Gazette listing where possible.

All gazette dates with nothing behind the date are Canada Gazette dates and all dates with a + behind it is a London Gazette date (01/01/45 = CG; 01/01/45+ = LG). A few dates have a * behind it as no London Gazette date or Canada Gazette date was found. An example of a DFC where no London or Canada Gazette could be found is the DFC to F/O John Gellner. I have also used the symbol + behind a name to signify that the individual was killed during the war.

A list of abbreviations found in this book is included at the back of the book. Where no listing is made for an abbreviation, I do not know what the abbreviation is for but found it in one of the Gazettes.

I hope that this book will prove to be a valuable reference for researching awards to the Royal Canadian Air Force. From experience, I know that gremlins creep into any book that is published and even something that appears to be a glaring error to the reader, will have been looked at by the author multiple times and read the way the author wants it to. Thus, I am pleased to receive any corrections in the book as it is with subsequent publishing that you really start to get it right. If there are any additions, corrections or just observations that the readers would like to make, please write the author at: 59 Courtney Crescent, New Westminster, B.C. V3L 4M1.
This book is dedicated to Warrant Officer 1st Class Francis Earl Blatherwick, who joined the RCAF on 10 September 1939. Because he was a permanent force member at the start of the war and was considered trained, he was promoted rapidly becoming a Warrant Officer 2 in 1943 and a Warrant Officer 1 in 1944. He reverted to Warrant Officer 2 after the war and was again a Warrant Officer 1 in 1951. When he retired from the Canadian Forces as a Chief Warrant Officer in 1970, he had been a Warrant Officer for 27 consecutive years, the longest continuous serving permanent force Warrant Officer in the RCAF. He did not receive any honours or awards during his period of service but his services contributed to the history of the RCAF.

While the book is dedicated to my father, it is also dedicated to my mother and three good looking sisters, Lorna, Pat and Leslie; my brothers Ken and Brian; my wife, Carol and our three sons, Jim, David and Doug, daughter Paula and granddaughters Krista and Stephanie.

John Blatherwick (formerly F/O, RCAF); now Commander in the Naval Reserve
